Festliche Weihnachts-Lasagne

Ein herzhaftes Festmahl, das sich leicht zubereiten lässt und für die ganze Familie geeignet ist.

Arbeitsaufwand: 25 Minuten

Beitrag: 41 Minuten

Zutaten für die Fleischsoße:

- 500 g Rindfleisch
- 1 Zwiebel (fein gehackt)
- 2 Knoblauchzehen (gehackt)
- 1 Karotte (fein gehackt)
- 2 Dosen (je 400 g) gehackte Tomaten
- 2 EL Tomatenmark
- 1 TL Zimt für eine weihnachtliche Note
- 1 TL getrockneter Oregano
- 1 TL getrockneter Thymian
- 1 TL Olivenöl
- Salz und Pfeffer nach Geschmack

Für die Bechamelsauce:

- 50 g Butter
- 50 g Mehl
- 600 ml Milch
- 1 Prise Muskatnuss
- Salz und Pfeffer nach Geschmack
- Weitere Zutaten:
- 12 Lasagneblätter (ungehackt)
- 200 g geriebener Käse (z.B. Mozzarella oder Gouda)
- Eingelegte Petersilie (zum Garnieren)

Schritt-für-Schritt-Anleitung:

- Fleischsoße zubereiten: Das Öl in einer großen Pfanne bei mittlerer Hitze schälen. Zwiebel, Knoblauch und Karotte hinzugeben und ca. 5 Minuten andünsten, bis sie weich sind. Das Rindfleisch dazugeben und braten, bis es braun ist. Die gehackten Tomaten, Tomatenmark, Zimt, Oregano und Thymian hinzugeben. Mit Salz und Pfeffer abschmecken. Die Sauce 15-20 Minuten köcheln lassen, bis sie eindickt.
- Bechamelsauce zubereiten: In einem Topf die Butter bei mittlerer Hitze schmelzen. Das Mehl hinzugeben und unter ständigem Rühren 1-2 Minuten andünsten. Nach und nach die Milch hinzugeben, bis eine glatte, dickflüssige Sauce entsteht. Mit Salz, Pfeffer und einer Prise Muskatnuss würzen.
- Lasagne vorbereiten: Die Lasagneblätter in kochendes Wasser für 5 Minuten einweichen. Eine Schicht Fleischsoße auf den Boden der Form geben, gefolgt von einer Schicht Lasagneblätter. Eine Schicht Bechamelsauce darüber verteilen und mit Käse bestreuen. Den Vorgang wiederholen, bis alle Zutaten aufgebraucht sind und mit einer letzten Bechamelsauce und Käse abschließen.
- Backen: Die Lasagne im vorgeheizten Ofen 40-45 Minuten backen, bis sie goldbraun und knusprig ist. Falls die Oberfläche zu schnell bräunt, die Lasagne mit Alufolie abdecken.
- Servieren: Die fertige Lasagne auf dem Ofen ruhen lassen. 5-10 Minuten ruhen lassen und mit eingelegter Petersilie garnieren. Heiß servieren.

Rice & Peas

Couscous of Origin
Jamaica

INGREDIENTS:

- Garlic
- Bay
- Butter
- Salt
- Onion
- Scotch bonnet or habanero
- Red kidney beans
- Thyme allspice
- Coconut milk

This recipe starts off on the stove to sauté the aromatics then is finished in the oven so your coconut rice will come out beautifully fluffy every single time. No more mushy coconut rice, ever again!

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Sauté the garlic, onion, thyme, allspice, bay leaves, scotch bonnet, habanero, chili until the onion is translucent – about 5 minutes.
2. Liquids – Add coconut, water, kidney beans and salt.
3. Rice – Once it comes to a simmer, add rice then give it a quick stir. Once you see bubbles breaking the surface, immediately cover then transfer to oven.
Don't have an ovenproof pot? Transfer to a baking dish once the liquid is simmering, cover tightly with foil and add 5 minutes to the bake time (to give it time to come up to temperature in the oven).
4. Bake for 40 minutes. All the liquid should be absorbed (lift to check) though you will have some coconut cream on the surface.
If you taste the rice at this stage, most grains will still have a small amount of firmness in the middle and be wetter than ideal. This self corrects in the next step when we rest!
5. Rest 15 minutes – Leave the pot on the counter with the lid on for 15 minutes. During this step, the rice grains will finish cooking so they are tender all the way through, and each grain of rice will absorb the liquid sitting on the surface when you first pull it out of the oven.

This is what makes rice fluffy rather than ending up with a pot of mushy rice!
Usually plain rice is rested for only 10 minutes. But for coconut rice, the extra 5 minutes makes all the difference due to the thickness of the coconut milk which takes longer to be absorbed. If you only rest for 10 minutes, the grains will be slightly firmer than ideal and the surface is stickier.

6. Fluff and serve! Pick out the chili and bay leaves, if you want. Fluff with a rice paddle or rubber spatula, then tumble the rice into a bowl and serve!

Intro And General Notes

My sweet loves - you know that my love languages are food and fierceness (and the f word). I grew up watching my mom and grandma making amazing things to eat out of necessity in the midst of unemployment and almost always all-consuming demands on their time and selves. When I finally began to cook as an adult and saw the joy I could give people with my efforts, I was hooked. Every time I step into the kitchen and put on my apron, I think about what story I want to tell, what feelings I want to evoke, and how I can best make each bite feel like a warm hug from me. After I met your dad and I was completely smitten, I woke up at 4am to make chocolate chip cookies from scratch to transport to him at the start of his 8:30am shift. And it worked. Cooking is my creative art, my passion, and - I can't say it enough - my love language. As you have grown and taken more and more steps to be creative and empathetic cooks in the kitchen, I have been inspired by you. Take the love I have given to you and share it with everyone you can. I love you a million billion, to the moon and back, and a Merchy hug. -Mam

Breakfast And Quick Breads

Basic oatmeal

Stovetop or microwave - it's easy, filling, and healthy.

INGREDIENTS:

- 1/2 cup old-fashioned oats per person
- 1 1/2 cup water per person
- Pinch of salt
- Pinch of cinnamon

DIRECTIONS:

1. Stovetop - mix all ingredients together in a medium saucepan. Heat to boiling under high heat, then drop the heat to low. Cook for another 3-4 minutes until the oatmeal is no longer soupy but not dry. Add toppings and serve.
2. Microwave - mix all ingredients together in a LARGE microwave-safe bowl. Cook for 2.5-3 minutes. I'm serious about the size of the bowl - use one that's not big enough and you'll be cleaning oatmeal off the inside of your microwave.

NOTES:

- Milk is fine as a liquid but we always did water.
- Add some kind of butter (peanut, almond, sunflower) to give this enough boost to get you through until lunch. We're hard-core chunky peanut butter people.
- Favorite toppings from when you were little - always dark chocolate chips (Ghirardelli brand), often either dried cranberries or dates, shredded coconut, or PB and J with my homemade peach jam. Ban, you love "chunky monkey" - bananas with PB and chocolate chips. Ian, your favorite is dried cranberries or peach jam (best) with PB.
- People can say you can make it savory, but I've never tried (why not just have grits?).

Alex Haley

"Have family reunions. There is something magic about the common sense of a blood bond. It's not less magic for black, white, brown or polka dot. The reunion gives a sense that the family cares about itself and is proud of itself. And there is the assumption that you, the family member, are obligated to reflect this pride and, if possible, add to it."
